

SPORTS ARE FIRST IN WHITE MOUNTAINS

Weekly Calendar of the White Mountain Resorts Grows More Strenuous ---People Motor From Place to Place for Many Events

WHITE MOUNTAINS, N. H., Aug. 16.—The weather in the White Mountains this month gave a surprise to the oldest residents when on Monday the temperature dropped thirty degrees and the crown of New England, the summit of Mount Washington, donned a mantle of frost and ice. Every one put on his heaviest togs and went abroad to enjoy the crisp air that for a few hours suggested October days.

The weekly calendar of the White Mountain resorts grows more and more strenuous. The most important in point of numbers of the sports of this week was the annual east side tennis tournament at the Iron Mountain House, Jackson, where 110 entries, including several notable tennis players who will be seen next week at Newport, contested for the east side championship. The annual tournaments of the Profile and Bretton Woods golf clubs are in progress. H. P. Farrington, who played against Walter J. Travis of Garden City on Tuesday and won from him, made the remarkable score of 73 for eighteen holes. The Maplewood and Bethlehem Country clubs have the usual weekly events and the gun club shoots at Marblewood call out both sexes. Golfers at Jefferson are busy on the links, and at the Mountain View, Sunset Hill House, Fabryan, Crawford and Twin golfers are also busy.

New Profile House.

NEW PROFILE HOUSE, N. H., Aug. 16.—With the annual tennis and golf tournaments at the Profile House in progress this week life at the resort is very gay indeed and many informal affairs are also given, together with elaborate entertaining among the cottage colony. The prizes given by the management in the athletic events are augmented by handsome gifts given by Draper when Governor of Massachusetts and a member of the cottage colony. Harold Tappin of New York has two legs on the cup already and it is confidently expected that the trophy will become his for keeps this week as no player of greater ability is pitted against him.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, the Misses Wilson, Miss Helen Bones and Francis W. Sayre spent two days at the Flume House in Franconia Notch last week. The visit was quiet and devoid of the usual sensation attendant upon the travels of the President's family.

Mrs. James Goodwin gave a charming tea at the New Profile House drawing room for thirty of her intimate friends. Mrs. Frederick Wendell Jackson, who entertained several guests at luncheon Monday, gave a small euchre party for eighteen persons, followed by a tea at her cottage.

Mrs. Ewald Fleitman is entertaining this week at the New Profile House and the parlors of her cottage were filled with members of the colony on Wednesday evening. Mrs. J. Rich Steers has cards out for an affair at the Flume House on Friday evening and on Saturday at the Profile golf club Mrs. Frederick Wendell Jackson is to entertain sixty of the younger set at a luncheon. The finals of this week's annual tournament will be played and the winner of the Governor's cup will be the lion of the hour. The Profile Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

Henry McHarg Davenport, who has been quite ill at the McHarg cottage, is convalescing, but Arthur Butler Twombly is confined to Aspyllkett with a slight indisposition.

Harold Tappin of New York has joined the J. C. Tappins and is entered in the golf tournament this week. Mrs. Williston B. Lockwood has arrived from New York to join friends here for the season.

Mrs. M. A. West and Miss H. A. West of Port Chester have joined friends here and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Worcester of Boston have come for the season. Mrs. Schenck and Nicholas F. Palmer and Mrs. Palmer motored up for the week end from Port Chester. Mr. and Mrs. Harry I. Riker and family have arrived from Seabright, N. J.

Jefferson.

THE WAUMBEC, JEFFERSON, N. H., Aug. 16.—The Waumbec will remain open later than usual, so heavy are the late September bookings at this popular resort, and many have announced their intention of remaining to enjoy the wonderful foliage of the early autumn. Over fifty motor parties arriving at the Waumbec on Sunday were unable to secure accommodations here.

At last Saturday's putting contest at the Waumbec, Mrs. Joseph Purcell of Brooklyn was hostess and presented the attractive prizes. They were won by Mrs. H. B. Guthrie and William M. Lummis of New York.

There will be a kicker's handicap this week, in addition to the regular golf events. Over eighty entries have been received and a beautiful cup given by J. E. Soule is offered as a prize.

Two large fishing parties were given this week, Mark Willing and party of Chicago having motored to the Northern New Hampshire lakes on a trip of several days duration to try some sport with dry flies. John Lummis and party made a day's trip to Crystal Lake and returned with creels full of speckled brook trout.

Mrs. William L. Ward of Port Chester motored to the Balsams at Dixville Notch for luncheon last Thursday accompanied by several friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Carter, the Misses Iden, who have joined their sister, Mrs. Osterholt; Mrs. John Slater and Harold Slater are all at the Waumbec for the season. Jack Bone, A. Austin Jordan and M. W. Neuhoff have come from New York to spend the week end with their friends at the Waumbec and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Regan and J. B. Regan, Jr., of the Hotel Knickerbocker in New York will spend the month here.

Crawford Notch.

CRAWFORD HOUSE, CRAWFORD NOTCH, N. H., Aug. 16.—A pleasant little flutter of excitement came at the Crawford House when it was learned the President's family would motor up from Cornish to spend the week end there last Saturday. The party included Mrs. Wilson, the Misses Jessie and Eleanor Wilson, Miss Helen Bones and Francis W. Sayre.

The party motored through Crawford Notch over to the Mount Washington Hotel, where Mrs. Charles S. Whitman entertained them at dinner, and also made a trip by backroad to the summit of Mount Willard. Mrs. Wilson and her party met many old friends at the Crawford House, among whom were Mrs. Norris, Mr. Van Tassel, Mrs. Uphur and others, who belong to the smart winter colony in Bermuda.

The party were met at the Crawford House by the Hon. James J. Storrow of Boston and they much enjoyed the informality and quiet of their visit at the Crawford House. W. M. St. John of New York, who has spent many seasons at the Crawford, has here for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. King are here for the month of August.

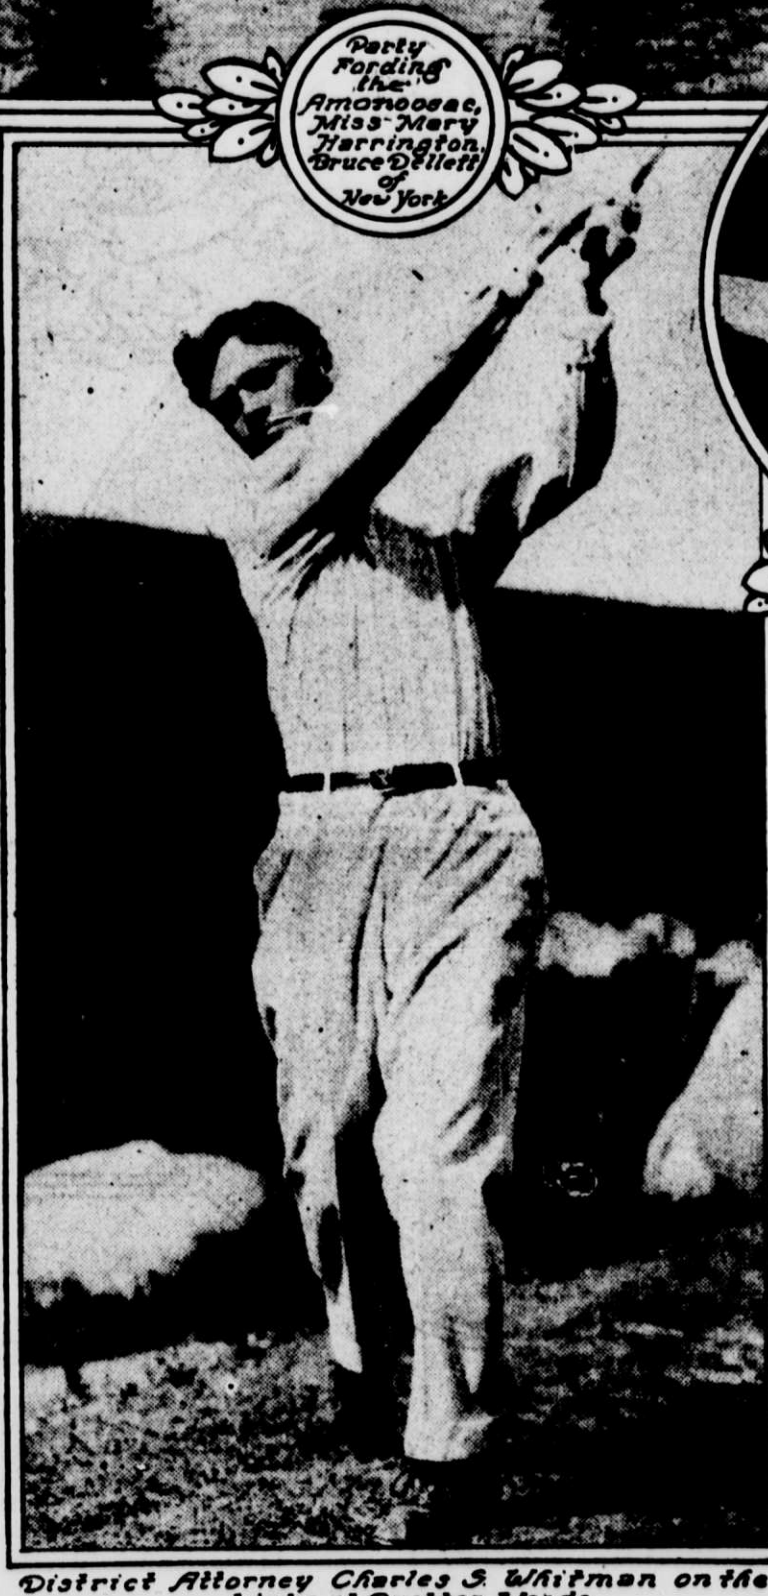

Maplewood.

MAPLEWOOD HOTEL, MAPLEWOOD, N. H., Aug. 16.—This week has been a busy one and has seen the end of the preliminaries in ladies' singles in the tennis tournament. Miss E. W. Coleman gave a dramatic reading in the music room in addition to the usual sunlight dance for children in the Casino. The first round in the August handicap tournament came on Tuesday and an illustrated lecture at the Casino on "India and the Far East" was enjoyed by many of the Maplewood colony.

A fancy paper dress dancing party for the youngsters of the hotel came off in the music hall on Wednesday evening and some of the costumes were unique and all were attractive.

Bethlehem met Maplewood on the Maplewood diamond on Thursday afternoon and in the evening another ball came off in the Casino. These are the most brilliant affairs of the season. Prof. Turner gave a lecture on the six great cities of Europe in the Casino, illustrated with stereoscopic views, and a card party in the rotunda entertained many ladies on Saturday evening while the young people danced in the music hall.

J. A. Atwood, Yale '12, is the organizer and manager of the Maplewood baseball team, which will round out the White Mountain League. W. E. Linstead gave a motor party to the Mount Washington on Tuesday, with Miss Mary Boyd, Miss Dorothy Atwood, W. D. Bailey and J. W. Paynter of New York as his guests for supper at the Cave Orill, the Mount Washington.

Whitefield.

MOUNTAIN VIEW HOUSE, WHITEFIELD, N. H., Aug. 16.—There are many events at the Mountain View House at Whitefield, where the large colony of young people have something in the way of special events daily. On Saturday Mrs. Antonio Liano was hostess at a clock golf tournament, to which the entire colony was bidden. The largest event of the season was the entertainment given in the music room on Friday evening, when a committee including Miss Welles, Miss Weir and Miss Canfield, Mr. Webster and Mr. Crouch, arranged a charming programme. The affair was for the benefit of the Morrison Hospital at Whitefield.

The programme included in the first part tableaux which were uncommonly well done. Miss Barbara Blake and Whitney Jastram of New York were seen in "School Days," by J. G. Whittier; Miss Pember made a charming Gesha in "Old Japan," and two tableaux depicting the Lady of Shalott were done by Miss Chesbro, of Providence, a noted beauty. Miss Van Name made a "Sonsome Maud Muller" and Miss Priscilla Alden, a descendant of John Alden, was a lovely Priscilla in a tableau from Miles Standish.

Intervale.

THE INTERVALE HOUSE, INTERVALE, N. H., Aug. 16.—The Intervale House as a mecca for motorists has justified this appellation during the week just past, as several hundred parties have broken their journeys there, going either to or from points north of Crawford Notch.

Among prominent New York arrivals at the Intervale this week have been Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Kennedy and Mrs. Joseph Kennedy of Troy, motoring with their guests, Miss Helen Bull and Fred Bull of New York city.

Philadelphia society is represented by Mrs. Matthew Semple and Miss Helen Semple, who are spending a few days here while on a motor tour.

THE BELLEVUE, INTERVALE, N. H., Aug. 16.—The season opened late at the Bellevue on account of delays in rebuilding the wing destroyed by fire, but the rush of old guests back to their favorite summer home has filled the house in record time and all are enjoying the extensive improvements.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Twomey with their family of New Rochelle have arrived there. They made a two day motor trip to Dixville Notch last week, spending a day at the Balsams.

Mrs. Robert V. Van Cleave and Miss Mary Van Cleave of New York are spending the season at the Bellevue.

Washington is represented by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hoxson and their guest, G. Schofield, who are spending a week here.

Bethlehem.

BETHLEHEM, N. H., Aug. 16.—The summer colony at Bethlehem is most active this month and several unique features are being planned. Of these one that finds popular and universal favor is the New Country Club, the first one planned by Mrs. E. A. Long of the Highland House of Trinity Court, Boston. Contributing to this delightful evening, one long to be remembered by guests of the Highland, where it was held, owing to the delay in completing the Country Club, were Mrs. Dora Pace Withey of Boston, soprano; Miss Rosalie Reiling of Richmond, contralto; Frank Andrews, Jr., of Berkeley, Cal., baritone, and Mrs. Winifred Page True of Boston, pianist.

Prof. Edward L. Thorndike of the New York University will remain through August at the Mount Washington Hotel.

Arrivals at the Sinclair House include Mrs. James Mahor, Mrs. John Mahor, Miss Katharine Mayer and Mrs. F. A. Koller of Greenwich, Sadie and Lillian Lyon of Port Chester, and Major J. H. B. Headley of Fort Totten, L. I., who is here for a month.

Fabryan House.

FABRYAN HOUSE, N. H., Aug. 16.—The Fabryan House, famed for its amateur entertainments, has one this week to chronicle which was voted one of the best ever held there. A musical skit entitled "The Village Postmaster" had its setting in a country store, and a more realistic skit could not have been achieved.

Miss Isabel Florence and Miss Daisy Lane were responsible for the book, which was extraordinarily funny. William Dodge of the Fabryan House orchestra was seen in the evening and the other parts were taken by Hugh Craig, Irving Jackson, Roland Vaughan, Ralph Malcolm, Eleanor Sinsheimer, Mercedes Moses, Isabel and Elsa Sommer, Isabel Florence, Julia Frances Currier, Rosalie Hilborn and Miss Helena. Following the entertainment several suppers were given in the Japanese room and the artists received many congratulations.

Rabbi Joseph Silverman, who has returned from New York, conducts services in the music room of the hotel every Saturday during the remainder of the season.

Twin Mountain.

TWIN MOUNTAIN HOUSE, N. H., Aug. 16.—The Twin Mountain House is filled with guests. Informal card parties and dancing have filled the evenings and golf, motoring and clock golf the days of the past week.

Delbert M. Staley and R. C. Farnsworth assisted at the regular Sunday evening concert, at which an excellent programme was presented.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilsey of New York and N. P. Cary have come to spend a few days at the Twin.

From Boston Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Daggett have come to join friends and spending the balance of the season there are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Barnett of Boston.

WENTWORTH HALL, JACKSON, N. H., Aug. 16.—Wentworth Hall guests who are interested in the new dances have ample opportunity to enjoy them, as four hops are given weekly in the Casino. Many members of the Jackson cottage colony and other hotels take advantage of the opportunity to drop in for a soda during the evening.

Old guests returning to the Hill for the season include Mrs. L. S. Loeb, Miss Nettie Schiffer, Miss May E. Schiffer, Mrs. A. American, Miss Sadie American, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Schulte with a guest, Miss E. A. Harris, who motored there.

Bretton Woods.

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., Aug. 16.—The cry for new fads is an increasing one at White Mountain resorts this season, the latest being the "harem veil," which milds has devised to protect her from the elements which create a wealth of frockies, the beta noir of the summer girl. Bretton Woods claims to have originated this fad and Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, wife of the New York District Attorney, is credited with furnishing the original idea.

Arrivals from New York have been heavy this week at the Mount Washington, among the latest being Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sherlock, who entertained a small party in the Cave Grill on Wednesday night.

Frank S. Voss of New York has arrived and will remain through the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phillips of New York arrived here this week, having motored up over the ideal Tour. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Cragin on Sunday last.

Walter J. Travis of Garden City is a guest at the Mount Washington this week and is keeping up his champion record on the links here.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Palmer, A. P. Palmer and Miss Sobek of New York are making the Mount Washington their headquarters while touring the White Mountains colony.

Mrs. Frederick Billings, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Nichols of New York are recent additions to the Bretton Woods colony.

Mrs. William Church Osborn has returned from the Mount Washington for her annual visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm Beach, Dr. and Mrs. J. Blake White, Dr. and Mrs. E. S.

Robinson and several other prominent New Yorkers are members of a dancing class just formed at the Mount Washington for learning the new dances of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis Morris, who have spent the early season at the Balsams in Dixville Notch, arrived at the Mount Pleasant on Tuesday, where they will spend a few days before returning to New York.

Lake Sunapee.

LAKE SUNAPEE, N. H., Aug. 16.—The social event of the week at Lake Sunapee was the commodore's reception given at the Lake Sunapee Yacht Club at Sun-Nip Park by Dr. John D. Quackenbush of New York. The commodore's reception has always been considered one of the principal social events of the season at the lake.

The annual regatta of the Lake Sunapee Regatta Association will take place August 29 and 30.

The tombstone golf tournament which was held at Grandfield was won by David Pearson of Philadelphia.

The ladies' putting contest which was held last week at the same place resulted as follows: First, Miss G. L. Gibson, Brooklyn; Miss Marion Storey, New York; second, and Miss E. A. Mitchell, Boston; third.

Judge and Mrs. James Malone of New York were recent arrivals at Lake Sunapee who are at Grandfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert L. Prouty of Brooklyn, have arrived and will remain at the Ben Mere, Sunapee Harbor.

Other late arrivals from New York are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Middendorf, Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Middendorf, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sniffen, Miss Beatrice Sniffen, Francis M. Sutton, Miss Josephine M. Sutton, Miss William McMurry, Mrs. James McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Severin, Mrs. L. F. Gray, Miss Margaret Colby, Miss Elizabeth C. Cassell, Miss Christine A. Cassell, Miss Catherine R. Cassell, Miss Mabel A. Fletcher, Miss Josephine E. Fletcher, Miss Alice Foster, Miss E. H. Gray, Miss Margaret Colby and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Gordon.

Even Better Golf Records Are Made at Ekwanok Tournaments

MANCHESTER IN THE MOUNTAINS, Vt., Aug. 16.—The ladies golf tournament at Ekwanok beginning on Wednesday and ending to-day created no end of interest. The qualifying round was played Wednesday and divisions of eight entered the match play, playing one round only each day. Entered from New York were Mrs. Lawrence Swift, Mrs. A. G. Mellwaine, Miss Christine Macdonald, Mrs. W. G. McKnight, Mrs. R. F. McQueen, Mrs. L. E. Kerr, Miss Elsa Pickard, Mrs. Harwell Cabell, Mrs. Lloyd Suttis, Mrs. W. L. Bull, Miss M. Reed, Miss Evelyn Goldsmith and Mrs. J. S. Irving.

The Lincoln foursome contributed a two to the selected hole score of Ekwanok, which is followed with interest from year to year, when on Monday afternoon G. H. Thacher played his approach from about 100 yards and holed out at the third. This with the reduction to one stroke at the thirtieth, made by C. H. Gardner recently, brings the total down to 39.

The dancing class of full-grown continues as enthusiastic as ever even with many rumors of lameness caused by the more active of the modern steps.

Charles Presbrey was a guest of J. L. Given over last Saturday and Sunday.

Tourists registered at the Equinox House recently have included the following from New York: Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Van Norstrand, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parks, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Vaughan, Miss Vaughan, Miss Winch Vaughan, the Rev. and Mrs. N. McFie Wallace, David Potts, Miss M. D. Jackson,

BURLINGTON POPULAR WITH CANADIAN AUTOMOBILISTS

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 16.—It is now the height of the tourist season and the automobiles are rolling in every night in large numbers. The largest number of the season thus far was twenty-eight automobiles last week at the Hotel Vermont.

A large number of Canadian cars are coming this year and Montrealers are appreciating Burlington as a week end resort, the trip being only 100 miles.

A party of Knights of Columbus from Wilkesbarre, Pa., were at the hotel Tuesday night, and Thursday a large Masters party for the Ausable Chautau trip is to be here.

Among the tourist parties at Hotel Vermont are the following: Dr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. George A. Ballard of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight A. Jones of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Hewett of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nathan of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buzzell of East Orange, N. J., Mrs. Charles Edinson and party of Irvington, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Land-quest of Morristown, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Southgate of Brockville, Canada; Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Fischer of Philadelphia, Pa. and Mrs. B. A. Dougherty of Melrose, Mass.

Beauty of the Late Season in the White Mountain Resorts

In the rugged beauty of their scenic aspect the White Mountains of New Hampshire are without rival in Eastern America.

September and October are just ideal months for a visit to this mountain playground. The vivid colors of autumn lend an additional attraction to every scene.

The mountains, always beautiful and ever changing, offer the same attractions to the vacationist whether viewed from the porch of some great hotel or seen from the veranda of some farmhouse, where two or three "city boarders" are taken. That is their great attraction as a playground.

The star attraction in New Hampshire's mountain park is Mount Washington, which stands sentinel over the Presidential Range, its head the first to become hoary with the September frost or snow.

You will not find another mountain of its height the world over that is so accessible and whose summit may be reached so comfortably. If you are fond of walking you may elect to climb to the top. Then there is the carriage road on the west side from which the traveller obtains a very different view from that he will have had if he has gone to the top by the famous cog railway, which has had the unique record of being operated over forty years without witnessing the death or injury of a single passenger. It is a wonderful feat, a second Jacob's ladder, is a remarkable sight in itself.

Usually the traveller and, on account of the good roads, the automobilist, is sure to find himself at some time in Fabryan or at Bretton Woods, whence the station is reached for the summit journey. Never will one forget the superb view of the ever changing panorama as he finds himself slowly drawn to the mountain side for nearly a mile and a quarter above the sea.

There are many fascinating trails for the mountain climber who feels that he has not properly lived until he has scaled the precipitous sides of Tuckerman's ravine or clambered high above the treeline from Crawford House over the Crawford path and over Pleasant's round dome to Clay, past the Lake of the Clouds to the summit and the old Tin Top House. Does the tourist wish to fish? The mountains are rich in lakes and streams where the angler may drop his line or cast his fly with a certainty of reward. speckled trout, pickerel, perch or landlocked salmon. There are some famous fishing streams, some of them made so by the late Dr. W. C. Prime.
